Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

Connecta Corporation (“Connecta”) believes that all of humanity is entitled to fundamental human rights, including those proclaimed in the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Therefore, we denounce slavery and human trafficking, as they deny victims of their basic rights. Connecta is committed to ensuring that these rights are being protected. We advocate the enforcement of laws like the California Transparency in Supply Chains Act of 2010 and the United Kingdom Modern Slavery Act 2015.

Verification, Audits, and Certification

Currently, Connecta does not directly verify that our suppliers are compliant with laws regarding slavery and human trafficking in the countries in which they do business. However, we seek to do business with suppliers with an established policy.

Internal Accountability and Training

Our employees are expected to follow the rules and standards set by our Employee Handbook. This handbook contains information to promote human rights and the awareness of modern slavery and human trafficking. Employees of Connecta are obligated to understand these crimes and have the integrity to report any related incidences to their supervisor and to law enforcement.

Our Business

Connecta produces parts as a service from raw material that we purchase. Manufactured parts are then shipped to the customer or to an independent vendor for additional work.
